Top	Back
 A top-down view of a quilt with a dark brown border. The central panel is a grid of approximately 40 small, square photographs of various people and scenes, arranged in a roughly rectangular pattern.	 A back view of the quilt, showing a plain, dark grey or charcoal-colored fabric with a subtle, fine-grained texture.
 A close-up photograph showing two hands clasped together on the dark fabric of the quilt. The hands are positioned in the center, with fingers interlaced. The person on the right is wearing a gold ring on their ring finger.	 A close-up view of a section of the quilt featuring a complex, swirling, paisley-like pattern in a dark grey or black color against a slightly lighter background.

History

Provenance

This quilt was made during the first year of the COVID-19 pandemic as a gift from the maker to his husband. It was also the first quilt the maker made. It was done on a machine without functioning feed dogs. The maker used this activity as a distraction from the new cycle. It was given as a Xmas gift in 2020.
